✠ Te Aute College and Hukarere School; Chaplains, Staff and Boards

A very warm WELCOME to all who are worshipping with us today -- especially if you are visiting Napier or at the Cathedral for the first time. You are welcome to stay for morning tea after the 10.00 am service.

Today Rev'd Dorothy Brooker and Gary Bowler are leading the 11.00 am Holy Communion service at Ormond Chapel.

We remember with thanksgiving ...

✠ Ivan Biggs - a long-time parishioner of St Peter's Parish, Hastings, and father of Rev'd David Biggs (a Waiapu priest formerly serving at St Matthew's Hastings, currently in Brighton, England). Ivan's funeral was held yesterday.

✠ Margaret Longshaw - a former Kari-tane nurse who cared for many HB babies, and grandmother of Anna Leese (the National Singing School's 'Artist in Residence'). Margaret's funeral service will be held in the Cathedral tomorrow at 2.00 pm.

NAPIER CIVIC SERVICE
Sunday 30 January, 10.30am
St Patrick's Catholic Church,
Munroe Street, Napier

The Napier Inner City Churches (St Patrick's Catholic, St Paul's Presbyterian, Trinity Methodist, and Waiapu Cathedral) combine to present the annual Civic Service next Sunday. St Patrick's Catholic Church is the host venue this year. Please note that there will NOT be a 10.00 am service at the Cathedral, but everyone is welcome to attend the Civic Service.

Farewell to Fiona Bell as she prepares to re-locate to Auckland next week and begin studies at St John's Theological College ... you go with our best wishes and good luck with your studies!

Workable Worship for Waiapu

Commencing in February, the Cathedral will be offering four evening sessions on Liturgy and Music for Lent and Easter.

NZ clergy to assist in Queensland

The first two of the Anglican priests from Wellington Diocese, the Rev'ds Jean Malcolm and Winton Davies, flew to Brisbane last Thursday to work in flood-ravaged areas of Queensland. They'll be based in Ipswich, just west of Brisbane, and they'll be ministering in Ipswich and in the Lockyer Valley, where flash floods claimed many of the 22 known victims, and where hundreds of soldiers and police are still searching for 13 missing people.

Another Waikato-based clergywoman, Rev'd Lois Symes, expects to fly out to Queensland this week, while at least five more Anglican clergy from Wellington and Waikato are ready to leave at short notice. Bishop Rob Nolan, who is responsible for the Western Region of the Diocese of Brisbane, has asked Lois to work in Chinchilla, a small town in the Darling Downs, about 300km north-west of Brisbane, and to help the town's Archdeacon in ministering to the district's grief.

Bishop Nolan has 38 parishes within his care – and he's told Rev'd Symes that 31 of these parishes have been hit by the flooding, some two or three times.

Four more Wellington-based priests are on standby, and will go to Queensland as and when needed by Bishop Nolan.

Meanwhile, the Dean of Hamilton's Anglican Cathedral, the Very Rev'd Jan Joustra – who grew up in Tasmania and began his ministry in Victoria – is also preparing to head to Queensland.

The Bishop of Wellington, the Rt Rev'd Dr Tom Brown, says Rev'd Jean Malcolm (who is a priest at St James, Lower Hutt) will be working out of an Ipswich hotel for two weeks. Her colleague, the Rev'd Winton Davies, who is a retired senior Police Chaplain and Hospital Chaplain, will also be based there, and he's able to stay on longer, if that's needed.

The four other Wellington-based priests ready to leave at a moment's notice are: The Rev'd Dr Chris Carey-Smith, who is the co-Vicar of St Matthew's, Palmerston North; the Rev'd John Hughes, Vicar of Karori; the Rev'd Kevin Tarrey, who is a priest at Wanganui, and Dean Frank Nelson, from the Cathedral of St Paul in Wellington.

For some time now the Diocese of Wellington has been linked to the Diocese of Brisbane in a companion-diocese relationship, and Bishop Tom Brown is, during this crisis, in daily email contact with his Brisbane counterparts. And he says the gratitude with which Wellington's offer to send clergy has been taken up underlines the value of those relationships.
