ART DECO WEEK

Napier city, and the Cathedral, along with the wider district, have been celebrating all things Art Deco this week.

The Story behind the Picture

In the mid-1990's the Cathedral Parish sponsored a refugee family from Cambodia to Napier. At that time there were already a number of Cambodian/Laotian families living here. The Cathedral Parish's family were Oun and Toy Nirakone and their two small daughters, the youngest of whom had been born in the refugee camp in Cambodia. A group of parishioners, including Stan and Sue Cosham, set about welcoming the family to Napier and helping them to settle in. Stan's role was to teach Oun English, and Sue's was to teach Toy. A job was found for Oun at Firth Concrete, not one he particularly enjoyed, as he was a graphic artist in his own country! In time, he applied to the EIT as an art teacher, but sadly his English was still not good enough for a teaching position. Meanwhile the Cathedral had purchased art materials for him so that he could do some painting in his spare time. These were displayed in a coffee shop in Emerson Street and were for sale. To thank Stan and Sue for their help to the family, Oun gave them a painting which they treasured. It is very restful, painted from memory of the country he left behind and loved. It is now on display in the Baptistry.

Sue is now offering the painting to be auctioned in the Parish, the funds to go towards the Organ Restoration. A reserve of $150 has been set. Please place your name and contact details and your bid on the clip board.

Bids close on the 27th February 2011.

Tree planting in memory of Sophia Fay and Amelia Anne Melville Monday 28 February, 2.30 pm, at Lake Tutira.

The Department of Conservation (Mark Melville's employers) are planning to hold a tree planting ceremony in memory of the twins. Everyone is invited to this occasion - feel free to contribute in any way you wish - come, say a few words, join in the singing, and/or bring a plate for a shared afternoon tea and perhaps a picnic mat or chair. A donation box will also be available for anyone wishing to contribute to an engraved remembrance stone.

From the main entrance to the picnic area at Lake Tutira, drive between the lakes to the very end of the road, veering left whenever there is a choice; at the end of the road there's a stile on the left with a track to a wide wooden bridge; just beyond, there is a clearing where everyone will gather, and the planting of two kahikatea will take place. Look out for balloons along the track to guide you!
